Hi everyone,

Wrote two new simple posts since the last update:

<https://antiantihuman.com/the-work-about-nothing> <https://antiantihuman.com/fake-analysis>

As always those are my random reflections on various topics I think throughout the week.

Some personal notes: I've spend few days hanging out with friends in Baja California and 7 days in New York on a solo trip. Those posts were written on the road.

I also have new logo and new mascot. They are both already live here <https://antiantihuman.com> <https://antiantihuman.com/>. Design is not important but wanted to give this blog some facelift. I think some extra tuning is needed.
